New Season Lakeland Game

Game isn't just for smart dinner parties. It's so versatile that you can serve it any day of the week for any occasion. Here are a few ideas:

Family Favourites:

If the children have never tried game before, one of the best ways to introduce it is through familiar dishes such as breadcrumbed pheasant nuggets. Rabbit is an excellent choice for children as the flavour is mild and not 'gamey'.

Midweek 'home from work' supper

Slice up some pheasant or partridge breasts and stir fry with vegetables.

Informal Food for Friends

Mixed game pie is a classic and therefore a winner.

Sunday Roast

A golden roasted pheasant is hard to beat and makes a great centrepiece. Or how about serving an individual partridge to each guest?

And of course, the smart dinner party

Slow-cooked partridge casserole with wine and herbs, venison wellington or rabbit noisettes wrapped in Parma ham.
